

Holding On (Tim Hansen 10/4/06)

When I think about it-almost lose my head
Too much information-wanna stay in bed
Food for the journey- never seems to satisfy
Got lots of questions, no answers tell me why?

And I'm moved two steps up and three back
Just give me courage to let go and walk
Keep holdin' on.

Everybody's got their answer-worth a billion bucks
Just sign on the dotted line-and pay up front
If you find no success-then it's just your fault
Never work hard enough or opened your vault (refrain)

Holding on. Holding on
When I trip and fall, I know you gave your life for all
Help me be a light for you so others can know of your love too
Keep holding on.

Even when I'm weary-you're right by side
When I turn away from you-you won't let me hide
Even when I center my life on myself
You offer me forgiveness-beats the hell out of wealth. (refrain)

When I first bought an electric guitar and amp I had so much fun learning about different tones and sound qualities. While I have a long ways to go to feel comfortable playing it live, I had a blast doing some new writing. This song is about the journey through life. Which horse are you going to ride?
